

A list of the main items included in each category of the questionnaire

Overall Promotion of Corporate Social Responsibility	Declare business policy, establish a charter of corporate behavior, define responsible organization and information
Human Rights and Labor	Prohibit forced labor Prohibit inhumane treatment and infringements of human Prohibit child labor Prohibit discrimination Pay appropriate wages Regulate working hours Respect the rights to freedom of association Policies for avoiding conflict minerals
Occupational Health and Safety	Apply safety measures for equipment and instruments Promote safe activities in the workplace Promote hygiene in the workplace Apply appropriate measures for occupational injuries and illnesses Properly manage disasters and accidents Be careful about physically demanding work Promote safety and hygiene in all company facilities Promote health maintenance programs for employees
Environment	Control hazardous chemicals in products Control hazardous chemicals in manufacturing Establish and apply an environmental management system Minimize environmental pollution (water, soil, air) Obtain environmental permits Promote resource and energy saving by reusing, reducing, and recycling (3R) Promote green-house gas reduction Promote waste reduction Disclose environmental preservation activities
Fair Trading	Prohibit corruption and bribery Prohibit abuse of a superior position Prohibit the offering and receiving of inappropriate profit and advantage Prohibit impediment to free competition Provide accurate information on products and services Respect intellectual property Use appropriate export procedures Disclose appropriate company information Detect injustice promptly
Product Quality and Safety	Ensure product safety Establish and apply a quality management system
Information Security	Secure computer networks against threats Prevent the leakage of personal information Prevent the leakage of confidential information of the customer and third-party
Contribution to Society	Contribute to society and community